"I plan my meals around CO-OP specials, which are good for a whole week, so I can shop when the store is least busy.

By KARL BARRON

BERKELEY - Eugene O'Neill's massive drama of Freudian complexities, "Mourning Becomes Electra," is being given a production worthy of the event it celebrates the opening of the new Zellerbach Playhouse at the University of California.

This student production under direction of Robert Goldsby marks the first full playing of the drama in California since 1936 when it was done at U.C., Conservatory Theater in San chorus delivering lines, he has and is of additional interest because the playwright for several years lived and worked

Last fall, however, well after school district budgets were set. the state dropped its contribution to the program. Reed, like many other districts, found itself in a financial bind.

The five teachers who would be dropped from teaching kindergarten could replace teachers' aides if they chose to stay with the district for the remainder of the school year. Souza suggested.

His proposal, he said, would help do away with rumors that some teachers are paid full time for a half-day's work.

The board of trustees, in a meeting at the Bel Aire School that resulted in their ordering a 50-cent tax increase election on April 15, deferred action on Souza's suggestion to a budget meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the school's multimedia center. "There must be a less drastic way to squelch the rumor," said Trustee Alyce L. Farkas. Urgency legislation is expected in Sac-

In today's hand, South's response of two no-trump is forcing for one round, indicates an interest in a final contract of three no-trump and asks North to clarify the nature of his hand. North does this by raising to three no-trump, indicating that he expects his suit to run, thus providing most of the tricks South will need.

South is delighted to get the news. Note that South is not tempted to suggest a slam. He knows that North has less than an ordinary opening bid, therefore only about nine or 10 points in high cards. His own count is 15 points, so that the combined count will not come close to the 33 points usually needed for a slam.

EASY TIME

South has an easy time at three no-trump if he is not greedy. Declarer wins the first spade with the king and should give up one diamond trick at once. Losing a diamond would be unnecessary if the five missing diamonds broke 3-2, but South needs only five diamond tricks and can therefore afford to take out insurance against a 4-1 break in diamonds.

Reverse Toll Collection Held Possible

The one-way toll collection system on the Golden Gate Bridge may be reversed so tolls are collected from northbound traffic, the general manager of the bridge and hyghway district said yesterday.

"I don't want to commit us to that yet, but it is a possibility," said Dale W. Luehring.

Bridge district directors voted on Jan. 10 to make the one-way sytem permanent, and authorized Luehring to prepare plans to remove some toll booths to provide an unobstructed roadway for toll-free traffic. The system has been in operation since Oct.

Luehring told the Independent-Journal he hoped to have plans ready for review by the building and operating committee on Feb. 12 or 13.

The advantage of reversing the system to collection from northbound traffic is that southbound traffic already is merged as it comes off the bridge, thus can flow easily through the toll plaza, Northbound traffic, however, must merge from seven approach lanes, and toll collection would help this traffic merge onto the bridge, said Luehring.

Instead of taking out some of the existing toll booths, he noted, his staff may recommend construction of a four-lane southbound roadway around the west side of the administration building.

"There are those who feel they prefer to get to work on way is now being studied by the time," said Luehring, "and Tiburon Parks and Recreation others who are tired and want to get home - we want to help

Bill Seeks To Expose One Cause Of Waste

A bill that would help clear away the confusion surrounding the numerous and overlapping federal public assistance programs has been introduced in the House by Rep. William V. Roth Jr., R-Del. More than one-third of the House members are listed as co-sponsors, including Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First California District, but not including Rep. William S. Mailliard of the Sixth District.

Roth calls his bill the Program Information Act. It would require full disclosure of information relating to all such federal programs in a comprehensive catalogue to be published annually. It would further require the President to make annual recommendations on simplifying and consolidating programs.

Roth's fellow Delaware Republican, Sen. J. Caleb Boggs, has introduced an identical measure in the Senate with nine co-sponsors.

CONGRESSMAN ROTH headed an eight-month study of federal assistance programs last year. After it was over, he reported that, although the federal government is spending over $20 billion a year on such programs, "no one, anywhere, knows how many programs there are; information on some programs is virtually impossible to obtain; and a significant lack of coordination between federal agencies has created scores of overlapping and duplicative programs."

Some of the overlaps are not too difficult to find. At latest check, there were three federal agencies engaged in finding jobs for minority race members in Marin County-none of them with any very notable success. This is but one example.

Merely cataloguing the programs would not, of course, eliminate any of them. But it would make it easier to spot the overlaps and would clear the way for cutting down on the waste.

CONGRESSMAN ROTH'S proposal hits at a particularly insidious ailment of public assistance programs, which too often results in too little of the money appropriated for them reaching those who genuinely need relief. This is the cancer of secrecy.

Because such programs deal (or are intended to deal) with personal misfortunes, they have been enveloped by secrecy quite as complete and often more impervious than that which surrounds the national defense.

Bureaucrats have taken advantage of this secrecy to shunt off criticism and to refuse details of how money is spent. And some of the details that have come to light despite their efforts have been disquieting.

THERE HAVE BEEN efforts to clear away the secrecy at the receiving end. More than 30 states - of which California is most definitely not one have taken advantage of the Jenner Amendment to federal social security statutes to permit limited inspection of welfare rolls.

It is time to get at the matter from the other end: to find out who is running which programs and spending how much on them. This can accomplish a double purpose: get more money to those who need and deserve it, and at less total cost.

Representative Roth's bill looks like a step in the right direction. Little can be accomplished toward curbing waste in assistance programs when nobody can find out what they are or who is time for our country to overrunning them.

We Marinites are usually so enamored with the out of doors that we do not feel at ease when the winter winds and rains descend upon us, rendering garden and patio into seas of mud. For the true Marinite, being house-bound is unnatural and

One solution is not exactly the kind of his administration was mothat will appeal to the more frugal citizens of our county, but it is not without merit. That is to take more meals in Marin's numerous restaurants of varied cuisines. It is offered as a suggestion to break the midwinter, post-Christmas boredom.

Bagley's 'Fire Politicians' Plan Has High Hurdles To Clear

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) - A simple solution to the problem of politics governing the board of regents of the University of California has been offered the Assembly by William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, in the form a constitutional amendment.

The Marin County legislator's approach is "fire the politicians.

His constitutional amendment would eliminate the four elected office holders who now are members of the board. They are the governor, last year, for example, we had

state superintendent of public instruction, and the speaker of the Assembly.

"WITH THIS ONE move," he says, "we can keep politics out of the board, let the people in, and at the same time create a board of regents insulated from public whim. At the same time, the board would be more responsive to changing educational needs.

"It just happens that all four elected public officials who are now members of the board are Republicans, but that won't last forever. Just the lieutenant governor, the confrontations monthly, and headline hunting contests at regents' meetings between Governor Reagan, Max Rafferty and Speaker Jesse Unruh. That did not help the cause of higher education in California, and would not help it in the future."

BAGLEY'S proposed amendment does not stop with banishment of high political figures. It would require that all meetings of the board of regents be open to the public, thus eliminating the criticism of the past few years that these public officials were doing business behind closed doors, without public knowl-

The assemblyman, incidentally, is a champion of open meetings, and has bills this year which will require that government do less business in secret

In addition, Bagley proposes that terms of the board of regents be reduced from 16 to 12 years. Already, measures are before the Legislature to reduce the terms to eight years.

THE BAGLEY proposal has a long way to go before it can be effected. He must get it through the Assembly, then the Senate, and should it pass those two hurdles, it has the final hurdle of the people of the state to jump.

Although there has been no vote on the attitude of the people to the activities of the board of regents, comment is to the effect that the board could well stand some shaking up. Primarily, it is felt that 16-year terms are too long, and result in a situation inimical to the operation of the

No Kind Word For Lyndon Johnson

Lyndon B. Johnson, so thoroughly discredited by the right thinking people of America, did not have the courage to face the voters last November, and therefore very wisely bowed out. It will take a long come the tragic blunders of his five years in office. In every conceivable way he leaves the United States in a worse condition than it had ever known. Almost every act tivated by cheap politics, and by his desire to be the Big Boy of the Great Society. He has brought our country to the very brink of bankruptcy and socialism....

And now, we welcome a new leader to the White House, and earnestly pray for the wisdom and the leading of God in the days to come.

Those Pay Hikes At The Capitol

(JOHN S. KNIGHT in Detroit Free Press)

The pay increases for the next President, members of Congress, the cabinet, federal judges and the Supreme Court come at a time when inflation, increased costs of Social Security, higher taxes and interes rates are pinching the pay envelopes of most Americans.

Why double the President's pay, jump congressional salaries from $30,000 to $42,500, increase cabinet members from $35,000 to $60,000 and make corresponding adjustments in the judiciary when restraint is being urged upon wages and prices?

It would seem that the federal establishment should set the example for the rest of the country, rather than merely preaching to the people.

Granted that some pay adjustments are in order, can raises of two-thirds or more be justified in addition to generous expense a c c o u n t s already in effect?

Victims Of Fire Deserve Help

Last week an early morning fire caused $3,500 damage to United States. There are now a Lagunitas home whose owner has lived in the area only a few months. Those months have, however, been spent in hard labor attempting to make an old house livable, and the labor included hauling away of quantities of refuse and junk. The owner of that home is Stephen Powell. Mr. Powell and his wife worked and saved enough cash to buy their home and were immediately faced with expenses they had not anticipated, such as a new septic tank installed at a cost of $1,200. The Powells have three small children. Mrs. Powell works night, Mr. Powell days, to try to create a home for the family. In these times when some people do not concern themselves about responsibility, it seems to me that the Powells deserve a helping hand. Although I do not know the Powells well, I am collecting whatever funds I can to turn over to them to help compensate for their fire loss-they did not have insurance.

Anyone wishing to contribute can either mail a check made out to Stephen Powell, to me, Laura N. Baker, P.O. 291, Lagunitas 94938, or turn contributions in to Larry Stogsdill at then Lagunitas Post

Mothers in overcrowded cities who cart their young off to the country so they can breathe a little fresh air run risks in other directions. ### Joint Development Group Seeks Ways To Rebuild Vietnam

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

we prevent another Vietnam in

After 20 years of war and all its destruction, can the shattered economy of South Vietnam be put back together again even after peace comes?

The answers are not negative. Some things in the right direction are already being done.

FOR TWO YEARS David E. Lilienthal, former administrator of the Tennessee Valley Authority and first chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, and Prof. Vu Quoc Thuc, a distinguished South Vietnamese economist, have been working on both these questions. They have reached two conclusions:

That the answer to the second question can remove much of the danger of the first, that South Veitnam's early rebuilding of its economy will be the best protection against future war.

That by planning and acting now - even while the Paris peace talks are in progress -South Vietnam, by its own efforts and with outside help, can achieve a sustained gross equal to Thailand of about 6 per cent annually.

PROF. THUC and Lilienthal, who is president of a U.S. consultant company, Development and Resources Corp., know what they are talking about. They are co-chairmen of the Joint Development Group in South Vietnam, which has been working out a design and a strategy to take South Vietnam from a wartime to a peacetime footing and to develop its resources for the future.

They believe it can be done. Early next month they will put into the hands of President Thieu and President Nixon a comprehensive report and work program which will outline 35 projects to be undertaken this year and next, dealing with nearly every aspect of civil development and how to turn prospects into Professor Thuc has recently become minister of state in the Thieu cabinet, but most of the Vietnamese planners hold no government posts.

"But there is one thing the Joint Development Group is not," Lilienthal points out in Foreign Affairs magazine. "It is iot a group with a Vietnamese facade and the American members doing the actual work, but a full partnership in every sense of the word.

The planning is now in an advanced stage inboth the public and private sectors of the economy, including highways, public u tilities. education, public health and medical services. It is not a grandiose plan for the future, but a practical plan for immediate action.

WILL IT WORK? Has the nation's economy been so crippled and neglected that solis restoration is impossible? Lilienthal's answers are these:

Despite the war, physical destruction has been minimal, and the economic wealth in the country in physical facilities has increased.

Despite serious problems of refugees, overdependence on U. S. aid and economic distortions, "economically the country is fortunate."

The outlook for South Vietnam's recovery is far better than many have thought, and every nation which wants peace, not war, ought to be eager to help. The need is to begin now.

Experts Suspect Israel May Have Nuclear Arms

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

authorities here do not rule out the possibility that Israel may have secretly developed its own nuclear strike force.

Israeli scientists are known to have the expertise required for building nuclear bombs and warheads. They have, or can quickly produce, the necessary nuclear materials. Moreover, nuclear know-how is now so widespread that Israeli weapons, built in secret and never tested, could be assumed to function. The only question would be how efficient such weapons would prove to be - and how powerful.

ISRAEL was at pains to deny the existence of any such weapons a couple of weeks ago. The denial was prompted by a report circulated by one of the U.S. television despite the denial, however, knowledgeable U. S. experts believe some Israeli weapons may well exist. They reason that, given Israel's resources, clandestine weapons development could be the logical step for a nation which feels its existence threatened by its Arab

Israel is not a signer of the nuclear non-proliferation trea-

ISRAEL'S nuclear status, if any, will surely be a topic of discussion when the non-proliferation treaty comes up for ratification.

Another topic for discussion will be France's interest in renewed access to the 7,000 nuclear weapons now stockpiled ty the United States in Europe.

While France was a member of NATO, French military units had access to tactical U. S. weapons under the doublekey arrangement which keeps actual control of the weapons in U.S. hands. When President Charles de Gaulle withdrew from NATO, however, that arrangement ceased.

France has produced some nuclear weapons of her own.

WASHINGTON - Top However, her stockpiles do not include the number and variety of battlefield-size weapons which are available in U. S. weapons depots.

In the wake of the Russianled invasion of Czechoslovakia, French military leaders are looking longingly at those U. S. stocks. Two French divisions are stationed in West Germany, along with NATO forces, and the French units, without a nuclear potential, are the weak sisters.

THE NEW Nixon administration is not expected to move quickly towards a bilateral arrangement with France, much as President Nixon wants to edge De Gaulle back into a cooperative role in the European community.

Odds now favor Senate approval of the non-proliferation treaty. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., are supporting it.

Liberty lies in the hearts of men and women; when it dies there, no constitution, no law, no court can save it; no constitution, no law, no court even can do much to help it. -Judge Learned Hand.

Vanishing Herring Pose Puzzle For Marin's Marine Watchers

Where are the herring?

About this time every year, the little fish swim into Richardson Bay to reproduce their kind and provide a feast for the seagulls and other birds.

Several firms along the Sausalito waterfront keep tabs on the herring - Sunbeam Bait Co., Caruso's Bait, Tackle and Supplies, Sausalito Boat and Tackle Shop - and this year they are of several minds about the herring run.

One source is sure the herring came in and spawned on Sunday's rain-swollen six-foot tide, in the middle of the big storm. Another says the herring are still in the bay, have been around for weeks, but haven't left yet. Of late it's been too stormy to take a boat out and track down the Wherever the fish are now, the seagulls have been thicker than usual along Waldo Point and Manzanita for several weeks, eating whatever is there. Usually a cloud of gulls marks the herring school for human observers.

But it looks as if there has been no big single herring run yet this season. Maybe they're coming in in smaller waves this year, or waiting for excursion weather.

After all, would you want to spawn in a storm like this

THE COUNTY road crews could prevent a future accident or two by repairing the chuckholes at the Marin City underpass under Highway 101. Given another storm and a few more days of traffic, the holes will be deep enough to make accidents inevitable. As it is, they are already shortening the lives of several hundred cars a day, and adding gray hairs to nervous drivers.

OUR NOMINATION for aptest acronym of the year is the currently inactive offshoot of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Association, the Throckmorton Ridge Athletic and Movement Association which spells TRAUMA, and you can't get much more accurate than that.

A PLEASANT bonus for nature-watchers is a colony of a dozen or so egrets that live in a salt marsh below the southern end of the Richardson Bay Bridge. Their marsh is surrounded and even roofed by paved roads, but they don't seem to mind the traffic.

Single egrets and other fowl can be seen along the bay waterfront, but the only flock I've seen in the area is the bridge colony. Urban birdwatchers can sit on a piling or a houseboat to watch the shore birds fish - and then fight with the cheeky seagulls for the right to eat their catch. Which brings on an ir-

Art Therapy Found To Help Cure Some Mental Tribulations

The patients were encouraged to express themselves artistically and the paintings were found useful in differentiating psychiatric disorders including the severity of depressive reactions. WITH INCREASING experi-

Another County Begins Forming Bowery Boys in "Hold That Transit District Baby" (1946)

REDWOOD CITY (AP) Santa Clara County's decision to create a transit district was welcome yesterday by William Lawson, president of the West Bay Rapid Transit District in San Mateo County.

He said creating of such a district would greatly help San Mateo County's plans to construct a similar system southward from San Francisco.

The Bay Area Rapid Transit District is currently constructing a rail system in Contra Costa, Alameda and San Francisco counties.

WBRTD hopes to link its pro-John Agar in "Curse of the Swamp Creatures" (1966) posed system to BART and extend southward to the Santa Clara County line.

Joe Namath Talks About Early Retirement

Namath could top Joe Namath when it comes to startling the pro football world, and Broadway Joe has in mind quite an encore for his Super Bowl triumph with the New York

Namath, pro football's golden boy at the tender age of 25, is talking about retiring. Don't laugh. Remember Sandy Koufax and Jimmy Brown?

Although he is the sport's No.

NEW YORK (AP) - Only Joe 1 star with a bushel full of money any maybe more Super Bowls ahead of him, he listed some pretty good reasons for getting out now, while he still is

"The legs are the main problem," he said, reaffirming a simple off-hand comment Wednesday that he is considering the possibility of retiring.

And there have been several very attractive business and entertainment offers that followed his direction of the Jets to their stunning Super Bowl upset over the Baltimore Colts that made him the most attractive personality in sports.

Namath's retiring thoughts put a damper on any celebration Weeb Ewbank might have considered after signing a new contract earlier yesterday as coach and general manager of the Jets. There had been some speculation that the 61-year-old mentor might give up the coachbeen nothing compared to any idea that Namath might retire.

Brown, Cleveland's great running back, shocked the sports world by retiring before the 1966 season for a movie career. Koufax, baseball's superstar, after pitching Los Angeles to the pennant in 1966, retired because of a painful elbow ailment.

"You have to make it while you're on top before you get destroyed," said Namath, who has ing reigns, but that would have 'been bothered by knee trouble in both legs since his college days at Alabama. He has undergone three operations on them and still plays in pain.

> "It's been a long season and with rest they might be better," Namath said. "But the way I feel now, retirement is something that has to be considered.

"I know I couldn't have played in the second half of the All-Star game at Jacksonville if I had to."

More

He denied that retirement talk might be a means toward getting a better contract from the Jets. "If I can't play, I can't play. I'll just be physically not capable. The doctor will have to decide that," he said.

One thing that Namath will consider is his teammates.

"There would be a sense of letting them down if I quit," he Namath said he already has told Ewbank that he is considering retiring.

Ewbank, by the way, had been working on a three-year contract at $50,000 a year, and his job had been rumored in jeopardy until the Jets won the American Football League's Eastern Division and then sprung one of pro football's biggest upsets in the Super Bowl. The terms of Ewbank's new contract were not disclosed, but it certainly must have been a good one. Now all he has to worry about is keeping Namath in a Jets' uniform.

Famous Toes Come Out Of Retirement

THE TOE—Gordon Tovani has taken his toes out of retirement.

Several years ago, you may recall, Marin's noted barefoot placekicker announced, "I'm gonna hang up my toes; I'm finished place kicking." This, after a colorful career of exhibition kicking balls off rooftops, over bridge toll plazas, across rivers, through windows (open and closed) and a brief tryout with the Oakland Raiders.

At the time Tovani was a nut salesman and he used his football talents for publicity purposes. For example, one day in downtown Reno, flanked by reporters and photographers, he kicked a pigskin some 55 yards over the "Biggest Little City In The World" sign that spans the main drag. One man was overheard to remark: "What kind of a nut is THAT?" See, publicity for his product, by cracky.

First Kicking Clinic In U. S.

Anyway, Tovani was an office visitor the other day to announce a coming out party for his metatarsus (and if you've never met a tarsus then you don't know what you're missing). He, with cooperation from football coaches Bob Troppmann of Redwood High School and Joel Kiff of Marin Catholic, will conduct what Tovani modestly calls "the very first place kicking clinic ever held in the United States."

"And there is a definite need for it," the San Rafael resident said. "The 49ers, for example, would do well to send a representative to our clinic to learn something about this specialty," alluding to the San Francisco team's weakness in the kicking department

A Lot Of Points By Kicking

A keen student of the art, Tovani continued: "The that a shade under 30 per cent of all the points scored by the Oakland Raiders were scored off the ends of someone's toes. In their playoff game against the Jets, 11 of the Raiders' 23 points were scored on placements. And in the Super Bowl the Jets scored 10 of their 16 points on kicks.

Noting that high schools are woefully weak in ever to win three gold medals points in the voting by sports place kicking, Tovani has limited his clinic to the in individual events, won the writers, sportcasters, AAU offipreps. It will be held at Redwood High on June 7 immediately following spring practice.

They'll Even Get Grades

"We will have room for 33 kicking teams, each consisting of a center, holder and kicker," said the year history of the award. Toe. "All units will work on timed agility drills and we will grade them on timing, execution of agilities and freestyle records from 200 to ey, of Laguna Beach, was It is awarded to the "amateur percentages of kicks made. We'll give awards to the 1,500 meters, the 5-foot-7, 116- third with 1,110 points for his ef- athlete who by performance, exbest teams in three different age categories and a special award to the best 'Toe' in judgement of the the Mexico City Olympics and None of the other 12 nominees of good sportsmanship during coaching panel and staff."

Tovani, whose motto is "Always Put Your Best Foot Forward," is the special placekicking coach for the University of the Pacific. His star pupil, Pacific's Swede Wins Stefan Schroder, booted a record-tying 59-yard field goal against Colorado State last season and has rooted Monte Carlo the old oblate spheroid 70 yards in practice, according to Tovani.

"We've had tremendous response from high schools throughout Northern California," said Toyani. "Imagine the scene - hundreds of footballs flying Bjorn Waldegaard, 25-year-old defeated in 16 matches as a block from school and wends his through the air. Tell both of your readers that they'll be welcome as spectators. They'll get a kick out of it."

A. In your circumstances the Your remaining 20 Allis-Chalmers shares should be held pending the outcome of the White Consolidated-Gulf and Western-Allis-Chalmers triangle. In any event the dynamic new president at Allis is a definite plus factor for the company.

The 6 per cent G&W debenture which you received as part of returns. the tender offer carries only a B rating and I would favor selling sale of your warrants could be invested in Alcan Aluminum Ltd., which has recently raised its dividend.
